Hamid Ait El Caid is currently a PhD candidate (3rd year) in Political Science and International Relations at Corvinus University of Budapest, Hungary. He received his Master's degree in "Public Policy Analysis" from the Higher School of Economics in Moscow, Russia. Prior to his graduate studies, Hamid earned his Bachelor's in English linguistics from Moulay Ismail University in Meknes, Morocco. His research interests include social movements, Extremism and terrorism, the issues of immigration and migrant integration policy. Related to the latter, Hamid prepares his doctoral thesis on "Integration policy towards Maghrebi immigrants in France and Spain". During his university studies, Hamid published papers and took part in several extracurricular events and conferences related to peace, migration and public policy related to the MENA region and Europe.