

Biographical paragraph:

Thomas W. Barton is Professor of History at the University of San Diego and Associate of CMRS-CEGS and focuses on medieval interfaith relations, legal history, and urban/municipal history. He received his AB from Princeton and PhD from Yale. He is the author of the award-winning monographs Contested Treasure: Jews and Authority in the Crown of Aragon (Penn State, 2015) and Victory's Shadow: Conquest and Governance in Medieval Catalonia (Cornell, 2019). Negotiating Christendom: The Politics of Diocese Restoration in the Medieval Crown of Aragon is under contract with Cambridge University Press. Mechanisms of Episcopal Power in Conquest Iberia is under review by Cornell University Press. He has also co-edited several volumes of essays. His current book project is entitled The Communal Roots of Interfaith Violence in Later Medieval Iberia.