

A graduate of the University of Toronto's Centre for Medieval Studies (Phd, 2000), Brian A. Catlos is a historian of pre-Modern Spain and the Mediterranean. Catlos has been using the collections of the Archive of the Crown of Aragon and other royal, municipal, Church and state archives since 1995, primarily for research into the social and economic history of the Crown of Aragon and Muslim-Christian-Jewish relations.

Some of his publications based on research at the ACA include:

- The Victors and the Vanquished: Christians and Muslims in Catalonia and Aragon, 1050–1300 (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2004);
- “Sex, Lies and Alleged Rape: Scandal and Corruption in Fourteenth-Century Mudéjar Lleida” in R. Vose and B. Vicens, eds., To Live Like a Moor: Christian Perceptions of Muslim Identity in Medieval and Early Modern Spain. Studies in Honor of O. Remie Constable (New York: Palgrave: forthcoming, 2020);
