

Carla Freccero is Distinguished Professor of Literature & History of Consciousness at UC Santa Cruz, where she has taught since 1991. Trained in early modern continental history & literature, she has published works in critical theory, cultural studies, queer/trans* and feminist theory, and animal studies. She is the author of several books--Queer/Early/Modern (Duke University Press, 2006); Popular Culture: An Introduction (NYU Press, 1999); and Father Figures: Genealogy and Narrative Structure in Rabelais (Cornell University Press, 1991)—and has co-edited Premodern Sexualities (Routledge, 1996, with Aranye L.O. Fradenburg); and special issues of Yale French Studies (Animots, with Matthew Senior and David L. Clark) and American Quarterly (Species/ Race/Sex, with Claire Jean Kim). Her book-in-progress is Animal Inscription.