

John Starosta Galante is Associate Professor of Teaching in History and Global Studies at Worcester Polytechnic Institute. His scholarly interests are primarily in Latin American history and transatlantic migrations. His research focuses on patterns of homeland connection and receiving-country adaptation associated with migratory movement. He has particular expertise in South America and the Southern Cone, where he has worked, conducted fieldwork, and traveled extensively. Galante is the author of On the Other Shore: The Atlantic Worlds of Italians in South America during the Great War (University of Nebraska Press, 2022).
