

Chelsea received her BA in Philosophy and Theology from the University of Portland. Her primary interests are epistemology and philosophy of religion, specifically the nature and diversity of ontological and epistemological concepts within religious communities. While in the graduate program at CU Boulder she plans to explore these concepts through the intersection of Islamic and Western perceptions of epistemology, the gravity of the evolution of those ideas over time, and their impact in molding modern religious and philosophical discourse.