

Kristina Richardson is an associate professor of history at Queens College and The Graduate Center of the City University of New York. She is the author of Difference and Disability in the Medieval Islamic World (2012), a history of medieval Romani and Roma-adjacent groups (I. B. Tauris, 2021), and a co-authored study and edition of a late 16th-century Aleppine weaver's notebook (Orient-Institut Beirut, 2021). Her work has been supported by the National Endowment of the Humanities, the European Research Council, and the Mellon Foundation. She has also been a fellow or visiting scholar at the CUNY Graduate Center, the Annemarie Schimmel Kolleg at the University of Bonn, the Ludwig Maximilian University of Munich, and the University of Münster. Professor Richardson serves as an editor for Der Islam.
