

David Williams is Assistant Professor of History and Program Director for Integrated Interdisciplinary Studies and Theology at the University of Saint Katherine in San Diego California. Since 2020 he is also a research affiliate at the Institute for Orthodox Christian Studies at Cambridge. His research focuses on shared sacred space, relics and identity in the Byzantine Mediterranean. He co-edited Sacred Mobilities in Byzantium and Beyond: People, Objects and Relics (Brill, 2023).